"You were so kind to me last October when I came in for mammograms that led to me having to have a stereotactic biopsy. It was a scary time for me. I really appreciated your kindness and helpful advice." – A grateful patient

To Julie, every woman is an individual with distinct healthcare needs. As a manager and radiologic technologist, she assists patients at YVMC and takes the lead in arranging follow-up diagnostic imaging.

"I have always been impressed with our hospital's commitment to providing services and focusing on the future. With our new digital mammography unit, this commitment is stronger than ever. Making a difference in women's health is what my job is all about."
