

Extraordinary People

Amanda George
Unit Secretary
Certified Nurse Aide

... personalized care

Known as "Information Central," the unit secretary desk is a lively place to work. Amanda coordinates with numerous hospital departments for patient diagnostic tests and reports. She knows where everything and everyone is, and her friendly voice guides visitors in person and by phone.

Then there's Amanda's other job, caring for patients with a simple rule: treat everyone the way she would want to be treated herself. That includes offering a dose of humor along with compassion.

Amanda says, "It's great when I can make patients, doctors or visitors laugh. I like people, and I love providing care. It's definitely family here at YVMC, everyone helping each other, and I treat patients like they're my family."