Meredith Rinaker
Patient Access
Representative

Meredith Rinaker is the first person you may see at YVMC if you have an emergency. Meredith makes sure patients receive access to the medical care they need in the shortest time possible.

Whether it's a broken bone during the week or an expectant mother arriving for labor and delivery on the weekend, Meredith is there to greet and admit anyone who needs treatment.

Meredith says, "I really like that I get to help people. It's more than paperwork and registration. A lot of the time, it's hectic. Often, the people who come into the ER are going through a really awful situation. I make sure the patient gets medical care quickly and then I help the family cope by explaining what's happening. I try to keep everyone calm."
