... personalized care

"Sarah was my OR nurse, and she made me feel calm and comfortable with my emergency surgery. She answered all my questions and was kind to my family. She even held my hand as I went off to sleep." – A grateful patient

A valued member of the surgical team, Sarah shows compassion and concern for her patients, her peers and physicians. She believes that communicating is a vital part of nursing.

Sarah says, "I've worked all over the country and never experienced the kind of teamwork that we have here at YVMC. Surgery can be stressful for patients and families, and a nurse can make a big difference in alleviating fears."
